and see what can be done.

The Argus has often urged the fact that the money derived from licensing saloons (the only possible excuse for their existence) was not only "blood" money, but a poor investment from a financial standpoint. This assertion has recently received support from no less a source than that of the judge of the Fifth judicial district, who, in a lecture before the Presbyterian Sunday school in Carls. a few days at a time when they canbad, two weeks ago, said:

"The fall term of court for 1907 cost $4,567.18, of which amount $3,013.10 was directly attributable to the saloon and its kindred evils, the gambling tables and the brothel. It requires no mathematical genius to show that it is a losing business to take in $2,400 a year as saloon license money and to spend over $3,000 at a semi-annual term of court in meeting the evils which the saloon propagates. The banishment of the saloon means that half the money used in prosecuting law breakers can be used instead in paying school teachers and building school houses."

STUMPING THE COUNTRY.

Albuquerque Journal.

In times past it was considered highly improper-almost unpadronably so-for a candidate for the presidency to do anything that would look like "electioneering" in his own behalf; but there have been so many lapses, of late years, from the old and very dignified standard of propriety that it is no longer expected of presidential candidates that they will "hide out" and let the office do all the seeking. Men are now hunting the highest as well as the lowest office. They make their wants known in a variety of ways. Speaking tours are supplemented by press bureaus. A candidate, without loss of prestige, may become an entertainer, and push his political aspirations in that fash- dition to Roswell. ion. An appetite has been created. The people want to see the men who are soliciting their suffrage. And so it is not unlikely that the coming campaign may witness the presidential candidates of all parties on the stump, drumming for votes in the frankest and most strenuous style.

WHY NOT AN AUTOMOBILE ROAD TO THE MOUNTAINS?

Their elevation is just right for different towns take this matter up pine forests are ideal, there is great variety of scenery, good fishing, good water and life giving air.

Many people who live here cannot go away in the summer for long periods, to the neglect of business, and the cost is great. A trip to the mountains by team over rough roads takes much time, is attended with much discomfort, and is too hard a trip for many people. If we had a good automobile road from here to the forests, scores of people could enjoy them where one does now. Business men and their families could go there for not or do not go there now at all. For people who are invalids or semiinvalids it would be a perfect god-

In a short time people who know how to do such things would build summer hotels, cottages, camps and tent cities there for the accommodation of people who did not want to establish their own summer places. It would be the means of bringing many health seekers here who do not make this region an all the year near Hagerman Saturday night. around health resort. Six or seven hours ride in an automobile would make a change of air and scene easy and inexpensive, and be of vast bene fit to people of both delicate and of ohust health

I do not know just where such a road should be located; but that is easy to ascertain. The cost of it would be very little, compared with the benefits. I do not see why it is not a proper thing for the county to undertake. If the county cannot do it, then it ought to be done by raising money by subscription.
